Speaker's Corner:

- In the documents sent out, Thato has laid out the motions and the information for the issues brought to the Board
 - Thato is putting in the time and effort to put it together – the Board should be reading the information
- The Help Desk is a great time to get some work done
 - Please sign up when you can
- At the retreat in February, Board members wrote ideas down on pieces of paper
 - Thato reading some of the ideas:
 - one of the most pressing issues at Sauder is maximizing on the student experience – responsibility of the Board to create avenues where students can interact and push themselves
 - transparency, reliability and structural cohesiveness are the most important
 - encourage transparency between CUS and the rest of the student body
 - voice certain years concerns
 - allow students to find their passions
 - It's great for us to ground ourselves on the ideas we had at the beginning
- The BMW will be in all meetings – virtually.

Constitutional Reform Committee:

- The Board saw the current time to take corrective action with regards to constitutional changes.
 - Article 18 may cause some issues in the future – committee will first work on ensuring changes will not become too complicated
- Committee will largely focus on the role of the Board rather than Service Council, etc.
- Consultation will begin with the Board, then Exec, then Service Council
 - If it reaches the point of an amendment, it will go to public houses
 - Will try to align the amendment with the elections in January
- Proposing membership of about 6 people – Chair + 5 voting members
 - Laura: would be great to have representation from Exec Council, Service Council, and Clubs Council
- Advertisement for next member-at-large to go out in the next CUS Updates
- May be good to see if an ex-PRC member on that committee as well – Chris was on that committee
 - Exec to decide who will sit on the committee
- Dylan will sit on from Service Council, Tina from Clubs Council, an Exec TBD, 2 Board members and a member-at-large

Ben and Paul's Passion Project – Optional Fun Meeting:

- See powerpoint presentation
- Draw students out to the meetings that do not normally attend CUS events.
- Fun events throughout the day coordinated with the POITS theme, MGM around 3:30pm and then POITS at 5:00pm
- Questions/Comments:
 - Will Paul and Ben be championing the project?
 - Yes they will

- What does Vincent think?
 - Thinks it's great – awesome way to get more traffic to events in general and involved in Sauder events.
- How effective will the full-day approach be?
 - 3 main events throughout the day – something at 12, 2, 3 and then MGM
- If it is in DLam, there may be problems with noise complaints.
- Costumes people wear to POITS are not necessarily appropriate to wear to school.
- May be important to downplay the connection with POITS as a result of the underage students
- Ensure that MGM is not overshadowed by the fun events
- Will it be feasible to find students that are not involved that are willing to participate in such outgoing activities?
 - May be good to brainstorm more ideas around activities
- Will the first event be ready to be paired with the November POITS?
 - Yes
- Is this the image we want of the CUS?
 - The distinct difference between the type of events that the MGM and the fun events are must be present, however, the energy of the day should carry into the meeting.
- ALL IN FAVOR OF SUPPORTING BEN AND PAUL'S IDEA AS A TRYOUT FOR THE NOVEMBER POITS?
 - Yes: 15
 - No: 0
 - Noted Abstention: Chad And Tina

VSEA Presentation:

- See document attached
- Focus on Personal, Professional and Academic Development
 - applicable experience and exposure to VC and entrepreneurship
 - facilitate curricular synergies
- Personal Development:
 - autonomy
 - resourcefulness
 - interdependence
 - network
 - interdisciplinary collaboration
- Professional Development:
 - entrepreneurial soft skills not taught well elsewhere
- Academic Development:
 - enhance entrepreneurship curriculum
- VSEA's Unique Portfolio
 - Prep students to apply for a competition like Enterprize
- Why the CUS?
 - Engineers are taught nothing about business
 - Looking to foster innovation between Commerce and Engineering
- Questions:
 - Have you contacted the EUS?

- The EUS does not do club funding like the CUS does. The EUS has funds that they give out to clubs that the club is perusing
- What differs between VSEA and Enterprize/VCPE?
 - VEF Events
 - Entrepreneurship simulation
- Is there any limitation on Sauder involvement in the club?
 - No.
- How many Execs are Commerce?
 - 4
- Where was the idea of the VC event initiated?
 - Last January
- What is the appeal to VSEA over the other organizations?
 - Students gain the skills they need to win a competition like Enterprize
- Are you aware of the Enterprize event being held in November?
 - Yes, they work closely with the Enterprize team.
- Can you explain the Bright Ideas competition?
 - A simplified business plan competition
- What is the membership cost/event cost?
 - UBC Students are $2
 - Main events range from $15-25
- VCPE is not a commerce club because of the lack of events last year to warrant $1000. Is there a budget the Board can take a look at?
 - Yes, they can send it to the Board
- Where are the knowledgeable individuals coming from that are attending these events?
 - Successful entrepreneurs
 - Students that have competed before
- How instrumental is CUS involvement in the success of the club?
 - Reach even more commerce students through events such as Business Week, etc.
- Board Discussion:
 - There are many students that want to be in the New Venture Design course that cannot and the club may provide such resources and further interfaculty communication
 - Would the club be overrun by the CUS?
 - Possible, but hopefully it would align closely with both faculties.
 - Last year, the club was funded by the EUS for around $1000
 - Winnie had no knowledge of the competition prior to the presentation.
 - Commerce Interfaculty relations would improve drastically with the club
 - No regulation on commerce student interaction, which is not conducive to CUS Club recognition
 - The Enterprize community portfolio has a competition planned very similar to VSEA's – Enterprize was unaware of their competition.
 - May help Enterprize attract students from another faculty
 - All of their events do overlap with either Enterprize or VCPE
 - competition among organizations fosters innovation and creativity – cannot simply shut them out due to overlap

- Would be tough to make a decision without the allocation of the CUS funds
- There are ways to recognize the club without giving them club status
 - would CUS Marketing resources be appropriate?
 - we cannot give them club status and then deny them certain resources
 - VCPE is not a club and have access to marketing resources
 - a precedent was set with this decision
- There are downsides to both paths – which method provides the greatest benefit to Sauder students?
 - tough to discuss without a budget as well as a list of calendar events for the year
 - if they are recognized as a club, we must ensure they work carefully with the other CUS events and clubs
- Is it possible to get a list of commerce students that are in their club?
 - No, due to privacy issues, but we can attain a number
- ALL IN FAVOUR OF TABLING THE VSEA ISSUE UNTIL NEXT MEETING?
 - Yes: 16
 - No: 0
 - Noted Abstention: Ekat and Melissa

Beyond P!nk Presentation:

- See document attached
- Questions:
 - Can we see the breakdown of the budget?
 - They would not give it to a corporate sponsor
 - Our money would go towards food, hotel, logistics, volunteers, etc.
 - How many delegates were students last year?
 - Of the total 250, 80%.
 - Will this be a cross-campus initiative?
 - Yes, they are targeting all faculties
 - Will CUS students receive any discount?
 - Yes if they join the UBC Chapter of Ywib
 - Of the student delegates, how many students are they anticipating from Sauder?
 - Unsure at this time
 - What was the ratio of Sauder:other students last year?
 - Primarily Sauder students
 - What are the confirmed sponsor amounts?
 - The Beat and CTV are in-kind sponsors
 - HSBC for $8000
 - BC Hydro for $5000
 - Would charging more for the tickets be detrimental to the event?
 - Projected amount for corporate sponsors is $30,000
 - Who would fund the possible deficit from the conference?
 - As of now, they have a loan from a bank based upon membership income.
 - Would the CUS have the same status as the corporate sponsors?

- Yes - no decision making power, rather, support.
- Justification for $6500 vs. $10,000
 - They are hitting a wall for sponsorship as a result of the economy
 - Tiers from $1500 - $10,000
- What is the night event?
 - First: Venue – fashion show with dinner and open to public after 10
 - Second: At the Hyatt with a DJ
- If we sponsor students to go, would there be a capacity on the number of students?
 - 350 is their capacity as a result of room nights
 - 610 spots for the Gala Dinner
- If the CUS were to sponsor $10,000 it would be the largest sponsorship at this point. What would be the extra benefits to the CUS as we would essentially become the title sponsor of the event.
 - the CUS could sponsor a specific portion of the event, however, another company has been approached for the Premier spot
- Board Discussion:
 - Numbers per head:
 - Me Inc:
 - 300 students
 - $68 / head
 - Enterprize:
 - 181 students
 - $138 / head
 - PNEC:
 - 80 students
 - $25 / head
 - BP:
 - 53 students
 - $111 / head x 90 = $9600
 - There is $55,000 remaining in Special Projects fund
 - This is before 2nd term – ICBC, SOC, and more
 - There is a lot of value in the event itself in terms of numbers, as well as the value from mentorship the delegates gain
 - IBC and BP would be competing for student attention and possibly money
 - ALL IN FAVOR OF SPONSORING AT LEAST $1 TO THE BEYOND PINK CONFERENCE GIVEN THE WRITTEN AND ORAL PRESENTATION BY THE REPRESENTATIVES OF YWIB BP CONFERENCE
 - Yes: 15
 - No: 0
 - Noted Abstention: none
 - The conference is geared completely towards women, and 40% of our faculty is men
 - At the same time, almost all of our events cater towards a very specific crowd (Me Inc, Enterprize)
 - However, there are also other options
 - We should raise the number to 90 students as that is a more accurate prediction

- The higher the $ amount, it should correlate directly to the benefit to the CUS
- In terms of advertising, that would only be effective for 40% of the delegates (the students)
- Another option is to sponsor students to attend the event
- A point between the PNEC and the Investment Banking conference would be $5600
 - That is not necessarily accurate as there is more value in BP
 - With $40 per head, the contribution would be $7200
- We cannot become a "Bailout BoD" for events
- We could sponsor $5000 fixed + $20 subsidy of Sauder Students that go would bring the total to around $6800
- Would they receive marketing access?
 - PNEC and iBanking have the access
- Out of this, Thato will develop a matrix to arrive at such numbers
- Fixed cost is out of our hands after we sponsor. We can control the subsidy. However, a subsidy is not a sponsorship to them at all, rather, it allows them to sell more tickets at Sauder.
- If the number is reduced dramatically, and reallocated to the subsidy it provides much more student value to Sauder students
 - At the same time, the special projects fund exists for initiatives such as this.
- The subsidy issue is a completely different issue and should be considered by External Conferences rather than the CUS Contribution to Beyond Pink
- Our contribution is now completely focused on fixed numbers.
- Straw Poll: ALL IN FAVOUR OF SPONSORING BEYOND PINK IN THE AMOUNT OF:
 - Vote 1:
 - $3000: 1
 - $4000: 4
 - $5000: 5
 - $5600: 4
 - $6500: 0
 - Vote 2:
 - $4000: 5
 - $5000: 6
 - $5600: 4
 - Vote 3:
 - $4000: 5
 - $5000: 10
- ALL IN FAVOUR OF SPONSORING BEYOND PINK, CONSIDERING SUBSIDY NEXT MEETING, IN THE AMOUNT OF $5000:
 - Yes: 13
 - No: 0
 - Noted Abstention: Pia and Griffin
