 - (a) This includes, but is not limited to, contact information and email lists, social networking pages, committee or council meetings, and events.
 - (c) This limit on use of Society-acquired resources shall further apply to individuals who have held such positions in the past and who may retain access to these resources beyond their tenure.
- (III) The Board of Directors may, by two-thirds (2/3rds) supermajority vote, adopt a “yes” or “no” position on any referenda and publicly communicate this position using the Society’s communications resources.
 - (a) Under no circumstances shall the Society, beyond the limits of reimbursement laid out for those campaigning in this Code, expend financial resources in promoting the Board of Directors’ position on referenda.

- (II) Each ballot form, online or otherwise, shall have only a single page per position with all candidates for whom the student is eligible to vote.
- (III) The names of the candidates shall appear on the page surname first, alphabetized by surname or through such electronic means as would result in a random order of candidates for each unique ballot.
- (IV) The voting system shall have the names of all candidates shown only once and of equivalent typography.
- (V) An abstention option shall be displayed at the bottom of each ballot page and shall not be counted towards or against the total number of votes cast.
- (VI) A “Re-Open Nominations” option shall also be displayed at the bottom of each ballot page.
- (a) No candidate receiving fewer votes than the “Re-Open Nominations” option shall be elected to a position, and nominations shall be reopened as required to fill such positions.

- (E) Results shall be publicly released via the Society's website, newsletter, and any available public announcement tools.

Section 4.10: Ties

- (A) In case of a tie, the following procedures must be followed:
 - (I) A tie is defined as a situation in which two or more candidates received exactly the same number of votes in a given election.
 - (II) If there is a tie, the tied candidates have the highest number of votes, and the number of tied candidates is less than the number of available positions, then all tied candidates shall be declared the winner, and any residual position(s) shall be distributed to the candidate(s) with the next highest number of votes.
 - (III) If there is a tie, the tied candidates have the highest number of votes, and the number of tied candidates is greater than the number of available positions, where the winner of the election is impossible to determine, the Elections Committee Chairperson shall hold an immediate re-vote within two (2) days, during which no formal campaign period shall be allowed and in which the voting period is no longer than twenty-four (24) hours.
 - (a) In such a re-vote, only the individuals tied for the position shall be included in the following ballot; individuals receiving less votes shall be excluded from the ballot.
 - (b) In such a case as where a tie occurs for candidates who do not have the highest number of votes but in which one or more positions remain for which they have the next highest number of votes (and which the number of tied candidates exceeds the number of positions remaining for distribution after all other positions have been allocated to candidates with a greater number of votes), then only the tied individuals shall be required to take part in the resulting re-vote and the individuals who have received a greater number of votes shall automatically be appointed to their positions.

- (c) Candidates may decline to be included in any re-vote (“forfeit”) and an individual may be acclaimed to a position in such a case of a tie wherein all other tied candidates forfeit within twenty-four (24) hours of receiving the election results.

Section 4.11: Appeal Procedures

- (A) Any candidate may challenge the results of the elections by submitting a written letter of appeal to the Elections Committee Chairperson.

 - (c) The Elections Committee may, upon appeal, declare elections results contrary to those initially announced provided, however, that they may only declare an alternative candidate to have been elected should there have previously been a miscalculation in the tabulating of votes or should all other candidates receiving greater numbers of votes in the relevant election be declared to have been disqualified. The Elections Committee may alternatively determine that a new election must be held to determine the winners.

- (B) Candidates may object to the decision of the Elections Committee by appealing to the AMS Elections Committee and, further, the AMS Election Appeals Committee, pursuant to the AMS Code of Procedure.
- (C) A referendum result may be appealed under the same process as an election result by any member of the Society. The initial filing of such an appeal shall further require the signatures of at least ten (10) additional constituents in support of the appeal.
 - (I) The Elections Committee may only declare a referendum previously announced as having failed to now have passed should there have been a miscalculation in the tabulation of votes, and may otherwise only invalidate the results of a referendum previously announced as having passed by now declaring it to have failed. The Elections Committee may alternatively, in either case, determine that a new referendum must be held to determine the outcome.
- (D) The Elections Committee shall only overturn the results of an election or referendum in such cases as where they find there to have been significant breaches of electoral procedure or integrity that materially affected the election results beyond reasonable doubt, and shall not overturn such results where they believe the elected candidate(s) or successful referendum campaigners to have acted in good faith and not have been subject to meaningfully advantaged status as a result of any actions on which the election or referendum results are being appealed.
